

From Rebecca Vaughn, Traffic Engineer, Somerset County Council

The implementation of possible parking restrictions along The Hill, Langport.

There are a couple of options which could be considered, although, being a conservation area, I would not advise an extensive scheme as this would involve the installation of numerous road markings and possible sign plates, which I anticipate, would not be welcomed within the conservation area.

The options which could be considered are as follows:

- Red line on plan below - restriction to protect visibility around bend.
- Red line & blue line on plan below – restriction to cover bend and length joining with existing parking restriction to allow parking on just one side of the highway. This option would see the loss/displacement of about 8/9 parking spaces currently used by residents.

This would all need to be taken forward by the Town Council. Explaining the purpose of any proposal will increase public understanding and acceptance and can even help with enforcement. We would not look to progress without outline agreement from all affected residents.
